

What is the Learning Disability Register?

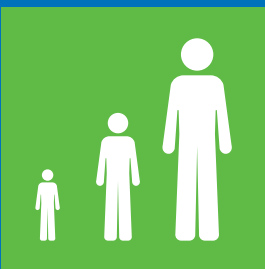

Your doctors surgery keeps a list of all their patients who have a learning disability – this is the Learning Disability Register.

If you chose to go onto the register, it can make your visits to the doctors a bit easier for you.

You will be offered extra support when you visit the doctors.

You can be added to the Learning Disability Register at any age.

You will also be invited to a health check each year once you are 14 years old.

If you would like to join the Learning Disability Register, please contact your doctors surgery.
