

DATA PROTECTION

How we use your information.

The Richmond Hill Practice has a legal duty to explain how we use any personal information we collect about you as a registered patient at the practice. Staff at this practice maintain records about your health and the treatment you receive in paper and electronic format.

Why we hold information about you

- To be able to provide you with high quality health care. This information provides a basis for the health decisions we make about you.
- To provide you with Health protection advice and information. For example, this may include messages about the flu vaccination programme or health checks.
- The Richmond Hill Practice does engage in research. The aim is to make advances in medicine to improve healthcare in the future. You may be invited to enrol in a research programme. We may use your personal details to contact you about this. In cases of research we will use your information under the lawful basis of consent.

For more information please pick a leaflet up at reception or visit our website www.therichmondhillpractice.co.uk
